Yes, Ma'am, We Are
London Learns, Not We
The Queen Is Sad
The Inside Machine

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1927, by the Hearst Corp.

ARE we prosperous? Yes,
ma'am. VERY prosperous.
Are we getting richer all the time, and is big business really big? Yes, indeed.

Did you read about reports of our two financial giants, United States Steel and General Motors?

General Motors, in the first six months of this year, made a net profit of $129,250,000, $36,000,000 more than the company earned the first six months of 1926. The first six months of this year the big steel company earned $91, 625,000, taking second place.

The two or three billion dollar corporation and the two billion dollar individual are here. Now for the trillion dollar corporation or individual with a million times a million dollars, and an annual income of billions. That will come. After all, figures mean nothing. All depends on how you spend the money.

London's recent sham air battle proves that the big city is in the mercy of an attack through the air.

The British are far ahead of us
in airplane test and air defense.
British war experts announce that if the mimic battles recently fought in the air had been real, half of London would be in ruins. In addition, all the people in London, with few exceptions, would have been gassed to death.

That might make our government, which leaves its big cities totally unprotected, think, but it probably won't. It will take a few months and gas to wake us up.

Queen Marie of Rumania is sad and is entitled to sympathy.
Her husband is dead, she says.
"I am a widow now. My throne is gone." She denies any wish to rule Rumania or jealousy of her little grandson, the king. She does not want to play the part of a "modern Cleopatra." She wouldn't willingly play that part if she could know what Cleopatra really looked like—VERY homely, says Ferraro.

Dr. Sherman of Columbia University shows that Sauer's "vital years" can be increased by the right diet. Efficiency can begin earlier and last longer if men eat enough of the right things. Cham-berly applied to diet will soon add ten years to the working period of human life.

We know too little about ourselves. Herbert Spencer says an English gentleman would be ashamed to put the accent on the ante-penultimate instead of the penultimate syllable in "Ish-genia," but is not ashamed of complete ignorance about his inside machinery.

Mrs. Alice Sample McPherson, whose conversion of sinners proves her inspired, fights as well as she can. Her former chair leader, Mr. Nichols, says: "Confess what really has happened when you were supposed to be kidnapped." Mrs. Alice Sample replied: "I did the right, walked in the light, and am only looking for advance." Please Turn to Page 12, Column 1.

Two Dying After Knife Fight Defending Girls PLANE CRASHES IN CAMBRIDGE

ARMY TEST PILOT HAS CLOSE CALL WHEN HE ALIGHTS ON CITY DUMP

Second Lieut. Ernest K. Warburton, army test pilot, narrowly escaped death today in a forced landing of a "Jennie" plane in a dump off Memorial Drive, Cambridge.
The high engine of earth and stone dumped in the field shattered the lower left wing of the plane and bent the whole.
By luck, however, the plane did not spin over and crash the happy tenant under the motor.
Lieut. Warburton, who lives at
No. 28 Newton street, Brighton, was leading the plane that went down with him when he was over Memorial drive.
He took off at the Boston Airport alone and circled the field a few times before he was forced to land. Please Turn to Page 2, Column 7.

2 DYING IN KNIFE FIGHT OVER INSULT TO GIRLS

While two youths lay dying at City Hospital today from knife wounds sustained in defending two girls, the police were searching for their assailants on descriptions given by the young women.
The victims, stabbed in a South End little in the view of a hundred persons, are Harold McDonald, 22, of Tremont street, and Leon Chen-ovsky, 20, of Hollander street, Roxbury.
The young women in whose behalf the youths dared death and who told their story to a Boston Evening American representative today, were

U. S. STEEL UP 5 POINTS AFTER DU PONT REPORT

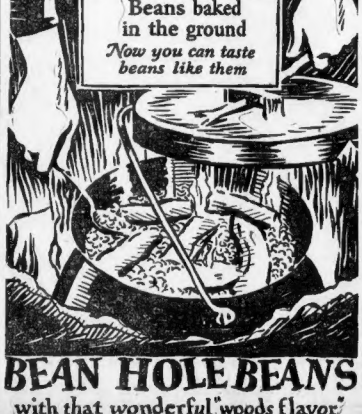

U. S. Steel soared sensationally
today on the New York Stock Exchange, up 5 points from the session's low to a new record peak at 124.
The rise followed repeated day-

new highs set by the big corporation, along with reports that Du Pont interests were buying for control. These reports were in part confirmed by the Du Pont half-yearly statement made public today.

VANZETTI HOPES FOR CLEMENCY AS NICOLA GIVES UP LIFE BATTLE

Nicola Sacco expects to die, but Bartolomeo Vanzetti has a ray of hope though he fears he failed to convince the Governor of the truth of his alibi.

Both know they have no chance of escaping the death chair through the much-disputed confession of Celestino Madelros, another condemned man, to their crime.

Headline both continue. That

FINAL SACCO PLEA TO BE MADE BEFORE FULLER THIS WEEK

quired before forcing decision can be administered, for the kind of liquid food prescribed varies according to the physical condition of the patient and the kind of diet to which he has been accustomed.

The two hunger strikers in this case had simple meals in the sixteen days that elapsed between their transfer to State Prison and the beginning of their strike. Breakfast varied between cereal, bread and coffee and eggs, bread and coffee, dinner was generally a small quantity of beef and potato with coffee, and supper was an even lighter meal.

The attitude of Sacco and Vanzetti, who for seven years have been fighting for their lives and now are within two weeks of the date set for execution, was revealed today through attorneys who had visited them at State Prison.

ARGUES WITH GOVERNOR.

Sacco is reported to have told Governor Fuller that he had no hope when the Governor questioned him at the prison.

On the other hand, he had faith in his two allies—one for the Bridgewater case, in which he was convicted with assault with intent to kill in an attempted robbery, and the other in the South Braintree case, in which, with Sacco, he was convicted of murder.

But, though he argued twice with the Governor personally at the prison, he found the Chief Executive, in whose hands his fate rests, meeting his declarations with contradictory statements of witnesses and this is why his hope is waning, according to his friends.

It was a warm, firm handshake, which the Governor gave Vanzetti in leaving, that kept the ray of hope shining in the condemned man's breast.

This was the story told by Vanzetti to his friends through an attorney. He also told how, after his second conference with the Governor had lasted an hour and forty minutes, the Governor was forced to leave, but asked him to write out the remainder of his unfinished argument and send it to the State House. This Vanzetti has done.

The Madelon confession, on which the defense relied largely in its last futile effort to obtain a new trial, was not mentioned by either Sacco or Vanzetti in their meetings with the Governor, according to information from the prison.

Sympathizers with the condemned men say that they were told frequently that Governor Fuller placed no confidence in Madelon's story.

Neither man touched breakfast today, as Sacco prolonged his voluntary fast to more than eleven days. Vanzetti, who ate a single meal last Sunday after seven days of fasting, is on the fifth day of his new hunger strike.

The quick decision that the Governor's advisory board of investigation reached was not considered a favorable sign by Sacco's friends. The board has made its report, leaving everything now in the hands of Governor Fuller. What the report was may never be made public.

The three members of the board met with Governor Fuller for a final conference today. It was said, unofficially, that their report was rendered individually, as at first believed, but as a joint report.

The speed with which they made their decision was said to be due to the fact that they stood up in status of each witness' story as they progressed with their hearing.

Warden Hendry today obtained advice from Assistant Attorney General Franklin D. Putnam regarding his powers over the condemned prisoners, especially concerning their removal to the death house.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Defense Committee and others had understood that the man would go to the death house next Monday, August 1. It is now clear that Warden Hendry may keep them in their present cells until the very night of the execution, if he wishes.

While it is not believed he contemplates such a dramatic move as this, it is known that he would like to keep them where they are until a definite decision is rendered. If they are to be saved, he does not wish to make them undergo the ordeal of transfer unnecessarily.

The death house is nearer the street than the Cherry Hill section of the prison in which Sacco and Vanzetti are now held, and the matter of safety from outside demonstration may be a factor in any decision to defer removal to the death cells.

The Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee had understood that the men would probably go to the death house next Monday, August 1. The executive council met next Wednesday. Before that time—possibly before the end of this week—the Governor is expected to reach his decision.

HOW SACCO MAY BE FED

A PIECE OF RUBBER TUBE ABOUT THREE FEET LONG IS OILED AND INSERTED IN THE NASAL PASSAGE. GREAT CARE IS NEEDED TO KEEP CLEAR OF THE LUNGS AS ENTERING THESE WOULD CAUSE IMMEDIATE DEATH.

Here is Nicola Sacco and an illustration of the feeding idea now being used in feeding those who try to starve.

BUD AND HIS PRINCESS TAKING MARRIAGE VOWS

Stillman, parents of Bud, kneeling at altar with Bud and his bride. Administering the nuptial vows is Fr. Ephraim L'Ami, French Catholic priest, of the frontier mission. Grouped behind the kneeling wedding party stand gayly-dressed peasants of Grande Anse and silk-clad social leaders of New York. A Highland band aided in the marriage revels.

Fuller to deliberate. Governor Fuller may deliberate on the testimony he has in his hands and arrive at his decision over the weekend at his summer home in Rye Beach, which is guarded day and night by police.

Mrs. Rose Sacco and her six-year-old daughter, Lisa, visited Sacco and Vanzetti at the prison today.

Antonio Dettanaro, a publisher, appeared before Governor Fuller and told of meeting Sacco at a North End restaurant on April 15, the day of the South Braintree murders.

Arthur Wellington Roberts, head of the classical department, Brookline High School, and a graduate of Harvard, N. J. died today at his home, 41 Briggs road, Brookline. He was a native of Cambridge and began his teaching career in Cincinnati.

He was a member of the National Education Association, the New England Classical Association and the Brookline Teachers' Club. His widow, two sons, Rev. George Ben Roberts of Proctor, Vt., and Morris P. Roberts of Gilbert, Minn., and a daughter, Professor Lyotina P. Roberts of Newcomb College, New Orleans, survive.

At this point, Leonard McDonald and his pal, Lena, appeared. One look was enough for them. They tore into the two men with their fists. We were so frightened we ran home without waiting to see the outcome.

We are shattered about these two brave boys suffering such dangerous wounds (telling for us, and we pray that they may recover).

The girls left at once for the hospital when informed of the serious condition of the two young men.

In light of hundreds of persons at Dartmouth and Tremont streets, the girls' defenders, with their date, fought the pair armed with knives.

At the hospital, both were found weak but not dead. A quick examination revealed deep wounds in the abdomen, and the doctors ordered immediate operations in the hope of saving the two victims. Their names were placed on the danger list.

WAITING FOR McDONALD.

According to the story told the police, the girls were waiting for McDonald, a friend of both.

While standing on the street, two young men, strangers to them, approached and sought to strike up an acquaintance, the girls told the patrolmen. One of the pair used insulting language when the girls resented their boldness; and when McDonald appeared the girls told him what had happened.

Angered by their story, McDonald rushed up to the two strangers, and in a moment the fighting started. Chenevay ran up to aid his friend McDonald.

It was all parents at first: then when the defenders of the two girls were getting the best of it, the defeated pair drew their knives. McDonald was the first to fall, dangerously wounded, and a half minute later Chenevay was down with a stab wound in the stomach.

At the hospital it was said there was little hope for McDonald's recovery, and some for Chenevay's.

A city-wide hunt was made by the police for the knife man.

MAYOR PRIZES JOHNSON FOR AVIATOR RECEPTION

Mayor Nichols has issued the following statement praising Director of Public Celebrations George H. Johnson for the manner in which he handled the reception to the aviators last week.

Dear Mr. Johnson—I congratulate you for your remarkable success which you had as director of public celebrations in arranging and conducting the exercises given by the city in honor of the distinguished aviators who were our guests on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was a test of your executive ability which you fully met and helped raise to the level of being the greatest celebration ever held in this city.

TWO DYING IN KNIFE FIGHT

Anna Summers, 20, and her sister, Ruth, 18, of Tremont street.

"We were proceeding along Tremont street on our way home," the girls said, "when two foreign-looking men approached us. Both were armed, sleekly and very apparently drunk. One had a deep scar over his left eye and wore a brown suit and cap. The other had on a gray suit and was clean-shaven."

The two men made overtures to us and when we refused they took hold of our clothing. We started to run, but the men seized us. We both screamed and by a terrific struggle managed to break from their hold.

MRS. STILLMAN IN QUANDARY

They drove quickly to the Stillman apartment.

The Stillman will sail at midnight Sunday on the Olympic for Europe. It is the same line on which Mr. and Mrs. Stillman, Sr., went on their "second honeymoon" after their reconciliation. It was reported that the young couple will have the same suite occupied by the bridegroom's parents on that trip.

Grand Mrs. Quebec, July 28.—While Bud Stillman and his backwoods bride in New York today, on the first stage of their honeymoon, the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Anna U. Stillman, chaste of the St. Maurice wilderness, and matchmaker par excellence, paced baroque the Grande Anse camp, seeking some solution to the post-wedding problem.

For with the marriage of Bud to Lena Wilson, former servant girl, the wealthy Stillman family has acquired new relatives. And Mrs. Stillman is puzzled over their financial and social status.

Frugal, her stillman, Mrs. Stillman, calm after the excitement of the wedding, said:

"Of course, I can't have Lena's mother or sisters employed here as servants after Lena's marriage to my son. At the same time I refuse to permit Lena's family even to think they can profit financially as a result of the marriage of Bud and Lena. It was on this question that the Wilson family and I broke last week."

But instead of the absolute banishment which Mrs. Stillman promised to the Wilsons a week ago, when they attempted to bring a heavy financial settlement from the marriage of Bud on the eve of his marriage to the minor daughter in the Wilson household, a more lenient attitude was indicated.

"These are my people and I know them," Mrs. Stillman reiterated. "Fifteen motor cars were disabled along the road by rushing guests and newspapermen. Two airplanes destined to fly new pictures to New York after they had been ruined from the Stillman camp some miles by automobile, two miles by canoe and nine miles over a mountain path, were trapped in their morning places."

15 DRIVEN TO STREET
BY FIRE IN ROXBURY

Fifteen persons, including women and children, were driven to the street early today by a fire in the four-story brick block at No. 541 Shawmut avenue, Roxbury. Dense smoke made the fire a difficult one to fight.

The cause of the fire, which caused a loss estimated at $200, was an open fire in the building. It started at 10:30 a. m. and was extinguished by the fire department. The family who occupied the first floor.

NORTHERN NEW YORK

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (A.P.)—Charles A. Lindbergh said good-bye to Albany today and then, in his spirit of St. Louis, headed up the Hudson valley to his birthplace in other cities and towns. The first scheduled stop on his itinerary was Schenectady, only 15 miles from Albany, but Lindbergh apparently decided that that was too short a trip and so skinned northward to Troy, where he will stop at Troy Hotel, Lake George and other places.

BYRD PLEDGES
AID TO HEARST
AIR PILOTS

Franklin D. Byrd, who was prevented from going on the American expedition because of illness, received in a crash of the American during a test flight, set on a long distance flight, the Charles River basin at the rear of the Byrd home on Brimmer street, and discussed the forthcoming flight to Rome.

News reports today carried the news that Byrd had been approached with an offer to pilot the Navy's new expedition to circle the globe for airship with the object of breaking the existing world record.

"I was asked to do this," Byrd told reporters, "but I told them I was going to the North Pole with John Henry Mears expedition to circle the globe for airship with the object of breaking the existing world record."

Byrd, typical Norse Viking, will have Boston tonight for New York and tomorrow he will conduct the first test flight of the giant Fokker monoplane that will carry Bernard and Hill, all-american pilots, on the Rome flight about the middle of next month.

The big Fokker has not yet been in the air, and Byrd, as test pilot for the Fokker factory, will not be making the first test flight until it is turned over to Bernard and Hill for the epic flight sponsored by Mr. Hearst.

Byrd is regarded by Commander Byrd as one of the greatest air pilots in the world and he will be at the controls when the Byrd expedition takes the air to explore the mysteries of the South Pole.

BYRD'S TRIBUTE.

"Mr. Hearst's expedition will be of the greatest value to aviation," said Byrd. "The plane is equipped with a Bristol Jupiter motor of 500 horse power. This type of motor has never been tried before on a long distance flight. It is a perfect addition to our knowledge of long distance flying."

"The Wright Whirlwind has proved itself to be a very good Atlantic flight that has been made it now remains to see what a much heavier motor will do under similar conditions."

At this point Commander Byrd entered the discussion.

The Hearst plane is using a foreign motor, this country has grown up big and its vision has grown in such accordance that we have not reached the place where we don't look any longer that our equipment necessarily has to be built in this country," said the commander. "We are all very anxious to see what this type of engine will accomplish."

"I believe the expedition will be a success, but even if it should fail of its objective the value to aviation will be just as great."

ALL PRAISE HEARST.

Mr. Hearst was noted by all those present for the interest he is showing in the development of American aviation.

"It is simply wonderful the way some of our men with money have come forward to spend it in this kind of thing," said Byrd. "I wish money back of us we would never get anywhere."

"We who are willing to carry on must depend on these generous backers and they certainly are doing magnificent work."

At noon Commander Byrd and his two assistants went into a conference on the forthcoming expedition. The questions of personnel and equipment were gone over thoroughly, but many more conferences will be necessary before all the details are finally worked out.

Both Bennett and Byrd plan to return to New York after the first expedition will maintain offices until they are ready for the departure to the South.

While today's conference was in progress, Byrd was busy in preparing in superintending the moving of a portion of the Byrd household effects to the family's summer home at Cohasset where they will spend the rest of the summer.

CHRISTENING SUNDAY.

Hearst plane "Old Glory" will be christened Sunday at 2:30 o'clock in Roosevelt Field, L. I. P. Trubee Davidson, assistant secretary of war and in charge of American aviation, will attend. Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, will be unable to attend because of the Geneva conference. The address he was to have made will be read by Congress Florentio H. La Guardia, chairman. Italian Ambassador Giacomo De Martino, will represent his country. An Italian, Irish, American, who will typify the spirit of friendship between America and the home of her forefathers, will carry the golden-winged bird.

Courtney's Landing

New York, July 28 (A.P.)—Something with a total of eighteen and a half billion candle power will be directed about New York Harbor to facilitate the landing of Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British flyer, on his transatlantic voyage.

The concentration is said by W. G. Marilla, illuminating engineer of the New York Edison Company, on the Mayor's committee, to be the greatest amount of artificial lighting ever directed for an occasion of this sort.

Landing space for the British ace in New York Harbor will be kept clear in an area some half mile long and a quarter mile wide, southwest of Governor's Island.

R. I. SALESMAN HELD IN
$3,500 EMBEZZLEMENT

Pawtucket, R. I., July 28 (A.P.)—Martin B. Marks of this city, former salesman for the J. J. Mahon Company, Inc., pleaded not guilty to embezzlement of $3,500 from the company in District Court today.

He was held in $2,000 for the coming August 15. According to complaint for the company, Marks was short in his accounts and was dismissed when the discrepancy was discovered.

F. C. DUMAINE, HURT BY HORSE, CONVALESCING

Frederick C. Dumaine, treasurer of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company and prominent Boston banker, is convalescing at his summer home in Grafton from a fractured leg sustained while riding horseback. His horse reared in front and crushed him against a tree. Mr. Dumaine is well on the mend, he told the Boston Evening American today.

BYRD, BENNETT
MAP POLE HOP
IN HUB HOME

Pole and draws, thin almost to the point of emaciation, and supported on one side by the lanky Bert Balchen and on the other by a cane, Floyd Bennett, pilot of Commander Byrd's Fokker flight, arrived in Boston today for a conference with Byrd on the Antarctic expedition.

Making the trip with Balchen, the convalescent Bennett, who was to have been chief pilot on the Byrd transatlantic flight, but who almost met death when the huge monoplane crashed in a trial flight, arrived from New York at 4:30 and rushed to the Byrd home in Brimmer street at 5 o'clock.

TO PICK "LUCKY 34."

"This trip was arranged by Commander Byrd for a conference to an over organization and personnel for the Antarctic trip," Bennett said before entering Byrd's home.

"The thirty men going with us will be definitely decided upon."

"Of course, I still feel badly over not having been able to accompany the Commander on his trip across the Atlantic, but then my loss was somebody else's gain."

"I sure did have a narrow escape when I crashed, but they told me my recovery is remarkable. It's highly so, though. However, I hope to be feeling fine when we start on the expedition."

Bennett said he thought he and Balchen would return to New York tonight, but when Commander Byrd received the pair of fliers he vetoed that instantly and said he would persuade them to remain until tomorrow at least.

HUNT FOR CARPENTER.

The Commander announced that he has decided to take four of his old sailor companions on the Antarctic trip—Thomas Murray, E. Dennis, C. E. Townsend, a cook, and

Woman Tries to Grab Lindy's Message to Coolidge's Town

Plymouth, Vt., July 28.—Lindbergh's message to President Coolidge's home town will be framed and hung in the Coolidge homestead in spite of a very determined woman tourist from Mr. Harmon, N. Y., who wilted otherwise.

The message dropped by Lindy in his passing landed beneath the window of the room where President Coolidge was born the building now owned by Florence Cilia's store.

Instantly the woman tourist leaped forward, snatched up the message, climbed into her auto and refused to give it up. Constable Dick Brown had to assert his authority before the woman surrendered the cherished message.

a carpenter named Gould whose first name Byrd did not remember.

He does not even know where Gould is, but said he believed the carpenter would reappear before the time of departure.

According to the transatlantic flight schedule, the time and place of departure for the frozen wastes to the south will be announced to him in Boston one week from today. At that time, also, he expects to be able to give complete details.

The Byrd family were packing today preparatory to a move to Cohasset, where Mrs. Byrd and the children will spend the remainder of the summer.

Byrd will alternate between Boston, Cohasset and New York, returning before his departure for the Antarctic.

AWARD CUPS AT TRAINING CAMPS ON FRIDAY

Four large silver cups, offered by the Boston Evening American, will be presented at the final reviews of the four Citizens' Military Training Camps in New England tomorrow afternoon.

These trophies will be awarded to the youth in each of the four camps "who, in his opinion, has shown the greatest response to authority and ability to command, indicating the highest qualities of citizenship."

The commanding officers of Camp Devens, Ayer, Fort McKinley, Portland, Me.; Fort Adams, Newport, R. I.; and Fort Ethan Allen, Burlington, Vt., have appointed boards of judges for the purpose of determining the winners. One cup will be presented to a young man in each camp.

These boards of judges, all of whom are officers, are now at work

Pasha May Lift Pig Ban and Fill Turkey With Squeals

Angora, Turkey, July 28 (A.P.)—Pigs, the "unclean" animals of the Moslem world, may be promoted to the Mohammedan hall of fame before many years.

Older religious traditions, centuries old, have been wiped out by Mesdjid Kemal Pasha, and for persons in Turkey would be surprised if the ostracism of pigs and hogs should be lifted through the influence of the President, who is extremely liberal.

Although there has been talk of a pig-raiding experiment on the President's model farm near Angora, he never publicly expressed his ideas. Pigs run wild in Anatolia, but to date a good Moslem would not even soil his hands by killing one.

on their tasks of selecting the winners and admit they have a big job on their hands. All the Citizens' camps have been unusually successful this season from every standpoint, according to the officers in charge.

The Boston Evening American of tomorrow will print the names of the winners.

FOUR BILLIONS IN DU PONT AND STEEL COMBINE

New York, July 28 (A.P.)—A scientific "community of interest" drawing together three corporations—United States Steel, General Motors and the Du Pont de Nemours & Co.—whose capitalization exceeds more than 14,000,000, is soon by Wall Street in the announcement to the stockholders of the du Pont Company that it has purchased 114,000 shares of the common stock of the steel corporation.

The du Pont Company paid approximately $14,000,000 for the steel stock and at a later meeting of the board of directors of the steel company other Pierre du Pont or a representative of the du Pont interest, it is understood, will take a place on the steel board.

There have been reports that Pierre du Pont now in Europe, may succeed Elbert H. Gary as chairman of the steel board. This is not confirmed in here-informed circles.

Mr. Gary is ill at his home here, but is expected back at his office soon. No change in the steel chairmanship is contemplated.

The entrance of the du Ponts into the steel corporation is welcomed by the house of Morgan, whose relations with the du Ponts have been ever friendly. The du Ponts own about 25 per cent. of General Motors and virtually control the company, so that with the Morgan bank dominating the steel corporation and the du Ponts controlling General Motors and the du Pont company there is a linking up of industrial forces of gigantic magnitude.

Whether the Federal Trade Commission will find in this reported "community of interest" an infringement of the anti-trust law is something that Wall Street is unable to say.

Wall Street has heard for some time that when the new Ford car makes its appearance the motor war for business between General Motors and the Ford will develop pretty vigorously. Reports from Detroit have still that Ford has spent millions creating his plant to compete with the low priced Chevrolet which is controlled by General Motors.

BETTY ALDEN'S SOCIETY COMMENT

The H. Wendell Endicott of Dedham Plan Summer Trip to Alaska

EVIDENTLY THE LEISURED set adheres to the old adage that "There's no place like home." Even though these placid folk have two, three or perhaps four homes, they adhere to "going somewhere" else. The old world exerts a magnetic influence on these nomads and they love to roam through its "pleasures and pains." And if not Europe, they find delight in the hinterlands of their own America. At any rate, their wanderings would fill a lengthy chronicle of interesting people going to interesting places.

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE, THE trip Mr. and Mrs. H. Wendell Endicott of Dedham have planned. They plan on "seeing America" as set forth in Alaskan Elders and mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Endicott, and the Eugene Endicott's are in the party. Alaska to Wendell Endicott means big game hunting and for the others slight seeing. They accompany Mr. Endicott into the fastnesses from which he and his party go still further afield, and then turn about for a tour of several weeks. Mr. Endicott will be away some two months.

THE ACME OF MODESTY AND reticence is Wendell Endicott when it comes to recounting his own exploits. But a line out of "Who's Who" after his name would read "author, explorer, big game hunter, angler, World War officer and chairman" among other items. His early life in Alaska is by no means his first pursuit after his game. Many are the trophies he possesses, and as for fishing, "talents run not only to the rod, but to the pen as well and he is the author of "Along the Florida Keys with Rod and Harpoon." Some very interesting specimens will be the spoils of his present travels.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERICK E. Mead of Brookline also would shunting go. Their plans take on a more sophisticated tinge, however, than the Endicott jaunt. Mr. and Mrs. Mead, as is their custom these several seasons, are taking a place in Scotland for the shooting, and will entertain with their usual hospitality. This year they have a "shoot" in Rosslyn, and will be away for some two or three months. And they sail for the British Isles next Sunday on the Berengaria.

AN ENTIRE SUMMER ABROAD is a pleasant prospect the Malcolm Whelan Greenoughs achieved. The young Harvard graduate and his charming spouse have taken a house in England and will be abroad until the Autumn. Mrs. Henry Parkman, Jr., mother of Mrs. Greenough, is at Marblehead as usual, with a fleet of Parkman boats moored in Marblehead's famous harbor.

DR. SARAH ELLEN PALMER of Cambridge returns from several months abroad in no brief a time. She will be at her Ware Hall apartment before going up into the Mather house. Dr. Palmer will be guests of Mrs. Nell Straw of Portland at the Straw camp at Emory Mills. Dr. Palmer's European travels included the British Isles, France and Spain and she comes home with note book crammed with interesting bits to give favor to the illustrated talks at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

THE HUGH BANCROFTS ARE on the high seas homebound after eight weeks abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft and their daughters, Miss Jessie and Miss Jane, depart for Boston on Sunday from their steamer and will probably go at once to their pleasant country-seaside home in Cohasset. Miss Jessie Bancroft is still a sub-debutante, and Miss Jessie has recently completed a coming out Winter.

MRS. CHARLES A. RUEHAULT is a guest at the Hotel Ambassador in New York, awaiting the return from abroad of her father, Robert Stow Bradley, and Mrs. Bradley. They are arriving on the Olympic and come at once to Mr. Bradley's North Shore place at Pride's Crossing.

Betty Alden OLD-TIME FAMILY ALBUM RETURNS IN NEW DRESS New York, July 28 (A.P.)—The old family album is coming back. In its new dress it will be of bold leather or brocade with hand carved boxes. It will be so ornate and useful, the Photographers' Association of America has been informed, that nobody will be ashamed to have it on the library table.

WILL MOVE VALENTINO'S BODY TO ANOTHER CRYPT

Hollywood, Cal., July 28 (A.P.)—The body of Rudolph Valentino, who was discovered and brought to film fame by June Mathis, scenario writer who died in New York Tuesday, will be moved from its present resting place here that the body of Miss Mathis may rest next to that of her mother, Mrs. Virginia Mathis. This was announced today by Miss Laura Mathis, sister of the film writer. The body of Valentino which rests in a crypt above that of Miss Mathis' mother, will be moved into an adjoining crypt.

Dr. Straton Cries as His Enemy Apologizes

New York, July 28 (A.P.)—Dr. John Straton, who before the congregation of Calvary Baptist Church in Wall Street, Straton, his former secretary, expressed "regret" over his recent controversy with the pastor.

Straton said that "in the heat of discussion" he referred to Dr. Straton as an "ignorant type of preacher."

Dr. Straton turned to John Hurd, a deacon and one of his severest critics, and said: "You ought to profit by this example and repeat likewise."

Hurd read a statement in which he reiterated his charges that confrontation was being provoked.

Marblehead Man Suicide
Norfolk, July 28 (A.P.)—Sound Devereaux, 22, died at the Norfolk Hospital from a bullet wound said by authorities to have been self-inflicted. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner R. Hathaway, Marblehead, Mass.

REVERE 'LOVE HOME' BARED IN SUIT

Testimony that Mrs. Henry Mullen had been living with Oscar C. Hates at Revere for two years, was given today in the trial of the divorce action of Walter J. Mullen of Milton before Judge Joseph H. McKeen.

Mrs. Alice G. Hatch of East Hitton, who said she had met Mullen with her husband for two years, testified she observed the actions of Mrs. Mullen and Hatch refer to the separation.

Mrs. Mullen was an interested auditor in court.

Mullen testified of a maid in 1926, on a house in Revere, where Mrs. Mullen and Hatch were found with four children, one an infant.

"I had left my wife in December, 1925," he testified. "In August, 1926, I asked her to come back. She was living with Hatch. She said: 'I've found the man I love and I'm going to live with him. Good night.'"

"I first detected her on November 6 to November 15, 1926, to shadow her in the hope of finding my own child which the mother took with her. I had not been going around with another woman and am not interested in matrimony."

Mrs. Hannah Wolfe, landlady of the Tenney house where the couple lived, testified Hatch and Mrs. Mullen were there in April of 1926, with three children.

"I assumed they were married," she said, "but three months later I learned they were not. When the lady was born in September of that year Mrs. Mullen said to me: 'That's our love baby. It is going to be Mullen's baby, as I can get $15 a week from him, $5 for the child, $5 for the other and $5 for myself. She showed the child's hair because it looked so much like Hatch's."

Mrs. Hatch testified she met Mrs. Mullen when the latter was a maid for Mrs. Hatch's mother. At that time Mrs. Hatch and her husband were living with her mother. Later, when they lived alone, Mrs. Mullen was taken in by them.

Cotton Shipment Returned
More than 2,000 bales of cotton, shipped from this port a year ago, returned today on the British steamship Itasca, in at the Army Base from Liverpool. The cotton can be sold in this country at a better profit than in England, according to the dealers who repurchased.

'FIRST TIME' IS JAIL FOR THIS AUTOIST

Finding guilty to a charge of operating an automobile under the influence of liquor, John J. Lyons of Jamaica road, Brookline, in District Court today, asked Judge Michael H. Sullivan for a fine on the ground that it was his first offense.

"I am not going to fine you," replied Judge Sullivan. "But I am going to send you to jail."

He sentenced Lyons to a month in the House of Correction. Lyons appealed.

CHARGE STOCK INFLATED TO PAY HIGH SALARY
Charging that the company stock was inflated more than $50,000 that Charles E. Campbell might hold his post as president at a high salary, Arthur H. Allen, Arthur G. Walsh and Theodore Logan, trustees in bankruptcy of the Campbell Electric Co., have brought a bill in equity against directors of the concern.

The bill seeks to hold Campbell, of Lynn; Fred R. Campbell of Lynn; John R. Hadaway of Swampscott; Albert M. Hoyt of Swampscott; How and E. Livermore of Boston; Hiram E. Miller of Lynn and Bowen Tuffs of Boston, responsible for losses sustained by the company.

Ducking Stool Good For These Women, Judge Thinks

When Mary DeMatia and Rose De Luca, Cambridge women, appeared before Judge Arthur P. Stone of the District Court today, today for the "stentless" time for ducking stool, sentenced them to five days in the House of Correction, and announced he would try to have them deported. Mary and Rose are neighbors, living in Ohio street. When they came into court today Judge Stone aligned nearly. He then found Mary guilty of assault and battery on Rose, and Rose guilty of disturbing the peace. They appealed the sentence.

GIRL AND YOUTH HURT

Thankful ever being alive, Albert C. Willis, 29, and Miss Helen Welch, 19, both of Hudson street, Somerville, are today recovering from injuries suffered when a car thrown from a bridge by William after a collision with an automobile. The accident occurred at Vernon and Lowell streets, Somerville, and both were taken to Somerville Hospital.

CRAIG BIDDLE, JR., WEDS AN ALBANY GIRL

Philadelphia, July 28 (A.P.)—Craig Biddle, Jr., of an old Philadelphia family, and Miss Alice Jones Thompson, Albany, N. Y., were married in St. John's Episcopal Church, Portsmouth, N. H., last Tuesday. It was made public here today.

William Baker, Whelan, banker, uncle of the bridegroom, said he regretted word of the marriage and he hoped the bride and groom would be the bride's mother. Mrs. James M. Naughton Thompson, at her summer home in Kennebunkport, Me.

Craig Biddle, the younger, tried the movies four years ago at Hollywood, arriving on the Coast filled with ambition to star. But he gave up the movies after a few months and went into real estate.

This also proving disappointing, he took the suggestion of Elmer Flynn, whom he styled "grandmother," and taught dancing to a select class known as the "Elite City."

The class went the same road as the other ventures, however, and he decided to become a play producer with Charles Gordon.

Their first venture, "Poor Richard," was just that. It ran two weeks in Philadelphia and closed, the actors unpaid. Equity sued Biddle for $2,434, alleging that he had guaranteed the salaries. Macklin Abovick and Blanche Yurka were in the cast.

OUTSIDE O' 4 STEAKS AND THE FIXIN'S BUT HUNGRY

To prove his contention that men are no longer "afraid of their shadow," Steward M. J. Kueley of the Boston & Atlantic quoted from a recent dinner check—a following illustration of "the appetite of a quarter century." In his 25 years of catering to travelers Steward Kueley had never seen its equal, he said.

Two percheron steaks, then a third and a fourth, with cold off, French vegetable side dishes, soup, bread and butter, a dozenysters and other hors d'oeuvres a plenty, and for dessert, two poached eggs on graham bread, strawberry jelly and shortcake.

"You may think Joe has put away a man's size meal," the gourmand's companion remarked, "they called for the coffee and cigars. That's really disappointed in his appetite. We're waiting for an honest-to-goodness wine supper in Montreal tonight. That's why he put out of light on your menu."

JUDGE LOWELL SCORES LEGAL TECHNICALITIES

Criminal procedure in the United States is too much hampered by academic discussion over the "crossing of the line" and dotting of the "i's" in the opinion of Judge James A. Lowell as expressed in Federal Court today at a hearing on motions to quash indictments against John H. Diehl, captain of the steamship City of Rome at the time of its collision with the SS off Block Island in September, 1925.

Diehl has been indicted by a Federal grand jury on charges of causing the death, by negligence, of 23 members of the submarine crew and of failing to observe the "stand-by" rule after the collision occurred.

Judge Lowell took the motions under advisement following arguments in their support by Attorney A. W. Blakemore for Diehl and attorneys against them by Assistant United States Attorney A. Chester York, representing the Attorney General of the United States.

Attorney Blakemore based his motions to quash on the allegation that the indictments against Diehl did not fully present instances of negligence or incompetency as charged by the government nor satisfied the state covering violations of the "stand-by" laws.

"Many courts have gone too far in requiring over-strict criminal pleadings," Judge Lowell interjected in remarks. "And too much attention to crossing of the 'i's' and dotting of the 'i's' has placed the administration of justice here in less favorable light than in the English courts. There is too much discussion here over the technicalities of criminal indictments."

At 77 Love Wins Maker of American Wool Co.

New York, July 28 (A.P.)—Charles R. Flint, 77-year-old financier, known as "Father of the Trusts," today takes as his bride Miss Charlotte Reeves of Washington, forty years his junior.

The ceremony, which culminates a war-time Washington romance, will take place at the First Presbyterian Church.

"I have known Miss Reeves for several years," said Flint. "We met in Washington when I was in the habit of going there frequently during the war and I renewed an acquaintance about six months ago. Miss Reeves is highly educated, wonderfully well read and is a hard some woman."

Flint secured his sobriquet of "father of the trusts" through organization of 22 of the country's greatest industries, including the United States Rubber Company and the American Woolen Company.

Flint is a son of a well-to-do family only two years ago engineered the largest project of the colorful career, a $100,000,000 consolidation of West Virginia coal companies.

Miss Reeves is the daughter of Edward F. Reeves, for many years telegraph operator at the House of Representatives in Washington.

Both Mr. Flint and Miss Reeves were married before. His first wife, Mrs. E. Kate Simmons Flint, to whom he was married 41 years, died in March, 1925. They had no children. Miss Reeves was divorced in Washington in 1912.

Mr. Flint was born in Thomaston, Me., and began his career as a dock clerk at the age of 15.

$15,000,000 IN HOTEL SALE NEAR RECORD AT NEW YORK
New York, July 28 (A.P.)—Sale of the Zoology Park Central Hotel at a price in excess of $15,000,000 was announced today by R. P. Burke and Company, real estate brokers.

It represents one of the largest real estate deals of its kind in the history of New York.

NAVAL PARLEY DEADLOCKED ON CRUISERS

A deadlock to Reuters from Geneva says the British and American delegates to the Tripartite Naval Conference, this afternoon, failed to agree on the proposals brought back by W. C. Bridgeman and Viscount Cecil from London.

The Japanese spokesman expressed the opinion to the Associated Press that the plenary session convened for Monday will probably be the last and that the conference will fail.

W. C. Bridgeman, chief British delegate, denied the conference had collapsed, but declined to reveal the prospects.

The Japanese spokesman said the British and American viewpoints of ships and cruisers would be extremely difficult to reconcile.

"I made the very statement that I made here yesterday. It is all that I shall say about the matter being discussed at Geneva," said Sir Armin Hammerstein, regarding the British viewpoint.

MAN BURNED WHEN HIT BY CAN OF BLAZING GASOLINE
Salem, July 28 (A.P.)—Adolph Donette, 21, of Reading, was burned about the knees at the Boston freight yard today when his clothing caught fire from a can of gasoline.

The gasoline can was thrown away by Charles Harold Moncrief to prevent an explosion in stock Donette and scattered its flaming contents over his clothing. Donette lost out the flame and took him to a doctor. The burns were not serious.

NAUTICAL BUT NICE

A FIRST RATE MATE

No, ladies and gentlemen, this is not another of those May and December romances. It is just Captain Rathmun of the Nantasket Steamship Line and little Irene Saxe, comfortably supervising alterations of the harbor dance boat Mayflower which resumes its trips next Saturday.

BASIS OF PEACE IS EDUCATION, SAYS GARFIELD

Williamstown, July 28 (A.P.)—In a national unity and understanding depend on an enlightened citizenry rather than a revised government. Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of the Institute of Politics, declared in a convocation speech before the seventh annual session of that body here this afternoon.

"Why not stop tinkering with the machinery of government?" he asked. "Why not commit to men, instead, and give office an office which citizen conferences may accomplish all that is really desirable."

"Conference, the education of youth, is the most potent method the citizen can employ, because it dispels ignorance and drives out fear. More is accomplished by the conference method by mutual exchange of ideas, sifting of evidence, than of citizens sought by any other means to bring their influences to bear on the government."

Without pointing a finger at any nation—our own or any other—I dare say that conferences are now being held which remove anything but fortunate results for the nation. Men of good will and high purpose are opposed by the sinister attitude of scheming men, while the conference meet and the world waits, wondering and fear hovering in the background, we may not be able to affect the results. But at any rate, we may know, and knowing, refused to be deceived."

To Increase Fleet

Copenhagen, July 28—A Moscow message to the Stockholm "Dagens Nyheter" states that the Swedes are planning to augment the Baltic fleet by the addition of four cruisers, three torpedo boats and seven submarines.

Charlie Farrell to Be in New Film

By LOUELLA G. PARSONS
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Charlie Farrell is going back to the Massachusetts town where his dad owns a motion picture theatre and renew old acquaintances. Since Charlie left home to become an actor he has acquired a Ford and become one of the best known of the younger leading men. "Seven Heavens" did much to elevate him to that position.
When he returns from his vacation, the Fox Company will bring together the friends of "Seven Heavens" in an effort to play an encore. Janet Garrow, who scored as Diane, will be countered with young Farrell, and Frank Borzage, the director of "Seven Heavens" will again guide their directorial destinies.
The story now under consideration is "My Dear" by Max Elitson.

SAYS COOLIDGE SHOULD VISIT U.S. ISLANDS

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR.,
Washington, July 28.—If President Coolidge really makes up his mind to go to Havana next year in the visit of President Macdonald and attend the Pan-American Congress, he will be strongly urged to extend his itinerary to include the Panama Canal, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands.
It was Roosevelt's belief that every President's membership of his Cabinet should visit the Canal and the islands. Had he been elected in 1912 he intended going to the Philippines and to our other insular possessions in both the Pacific and the Atlantic before building his second elective term.

ALL AMERICA CRUISE.
If President Coolidge accepts another term he could easily go to the Philippines in the summer following his re-election. He could keep in close touch with the home government by wireless and need not be absent from continental United States longer than two months. In this time he could include the Hawaiian Islands and Guam, and stop at any but an American port and come home.

Some day, perhaps not far away, a President will deem it his duty to visit the insular possessions of the United States, the Panama Canal and Alaska. Just President Taft in the past have visited all parts of continental United States. In view of the fact that the people of the overseas territory do not vote for a President they feel that at least they might be allowed the privilege now and then of seeing one.

Goodwin Starts Things Boston and Big Fight Field Is Here
By Nick Flatley

BRVES FIELD BIG ENOUGH FOR TITLE BOUT

TOM GOODWIN'S bid to Jack Dempsey to come here to fight young Mister Sharkey has started something. Half a dozen letters have appeared, the writers eager to discover how much money could be collected at Braves Field to interest the young millionaires who make heavyweight boxing a profession these days.

It could be done. Braves Field, properly fitted up for a fight, could accommodate at least 75,000 fans. There are 42,000 seats in the base-ball stands. Bleachers, built in left and center fields, would hold 18,000 customers and 15,000 bench seats could be sprinkled around the ring. Add them up.

Critics are inclined to say that Boston fans would not pay big prices for fighting. The city, it is claimed, is a $3 town. The same thing was said of Philadelphia when Rickard moved his Sequi-Centennial Battle over there. The customers were used to $3 towns. The show would have to flop.

Mister Rickard knows that anything big will go in a new spot. He knows his onions and his customers. The Philly gate was $1,800,000, and Tex, after an investigation, found that 70 per cent. of the gold came from the State of Pennsylvania.

He has declared to your correspondent that Boston and Massachusetts would follow the Sequi precedent and sell out on a big blowout. Jack Delaney, for instance, draws fans from all parts of the world. There are at least 20,000 traveling customers who would go to Timbuctoo if the Tiger was fighting, and hang the expense. At least nine out of ten in the big Philadelphia mob were sure that the Tunney fight was a setup for Jack, but they kicked in just the same.

Some 5,000 Bostonians went over to the Yankee Stadium to see Sharkey fight Dempsey. It cost every last one of them at least $75, which is pushing it very mildly. That's a little item of $75,000. Boston, you may be sure, would pay the price if the right kind of a show was offered.

THE HIGHER THE PRICE, THE MORE CUSTOMERS BRVES THEMSELVES TO PAY IT. IF RICKARD HAS BECOME A MILLIONAIRE BECAUSE HE REALIZED THAT TRUTH EARLY.

Will pack 'em in if it costs enough.

HERE'S HOW MILLION COULD BE CORRALLED

A big heavyweight war must draw approximately a million dollars in these phantasmic days. Getting a million into Braves field would necessitate prices that seem ridiculous, but in sports just now, money doesn't mean a thing. We watched eager fans pay $100 up for the $25.00 tickets in New York last week. The demand moved the supply.

There is no price law in Massachusetts. The right promoter could promptly get permission to charge anything he desired for good seats. With $100 inside tickets, the million and more could be tucked into the Wigwam coffers. Here is the schedule that would turn the trick:

5,000 tickets at $25	$125,000
5,000 tickets at $50	$250,000
10,000 tickets at $25	$250,000
10,000 tickets at $50	$500,000
10,000 tickets at $75	$750,000
10,000 tickets at $100	$1,000,000
20,000 tickets at $50	$1,000,000
20,000 tickets at $75	$1,500,000
20,000 tickets at $100	$2,000,000

25,000 tickets Gate—$1,250,000

Looks like a home distiller golden dream. But the first promoter who tries it here is quite likely to become wealthy overnight.

Talking of millions, it is interesting to note that Eddie Mack is trying out fifty cent boxing here, starting next week. The same racket is a big earner in Philadelphia where the record $1,800,000 gate was also churned out of the customer's pockets.

Tunney Cuts Purse To Get Dempsey in Line

By Jack Conway

JUST got the real low down on the coming Tunney-Dempsey championship bout, an inside source," said Mr. Boston today. "While all the world is steamed up over the match going to Chicago, it went on the veteran, 'it now is almost a certainty that New York will land the fight plan."

The A. P. Jones, who is the promoter of the fight, has been told by the inside source that Tunney has agreed to a fight with Dempsey for a purse of $100,000, and a 50 per cent share of the gate.

The fight will be fought at the Madison Square Garden, New York, on August 1. The fight will be a ten-round affair, and the purse will be $100,000, and a 50 per cent share of the gate.

The fight will be fought at the Madison Square Garden, New York, on August 1. The fight will be a ten-round affair, and the purse will be $100,000, and a 50 per cent share of the gate.

Mr. Boston

JUST when it began to look as if Chicago had the title bout all sewn up, a report from State Street has it is a case of the New York boxing commission, instructed that honorable body to maintain a hands-off policy when it comes to limiting the prize to be charged for tickets at the boxing arena.

It is now that the boxing commission has been charged with the duty of maintaining a hands-off policy when it comes to limiting the prize to be charged for tickets at the boxing arena.

RICHARD is sitting on the top of the fight world no matter how the fight goes. The fight will be fought at the Madison Square Garden, New York, on August 1.

Why you should live in Maine

SPEND this summer's vacation at a camp in the Maine woods overlooking a lake where wonderful swimming and fishing are right at your door—where you "rough it in comfort" and store up health and vigor and pleasant memories.

Vacation at the Maine coast is a treat. On an island or camp where there is room and invigorating.

If mountains call you, come to Maine. Climb Katahdin—a mile high in the heart of the "big woods" country. Much of Maine is all forested mountains, lakes and streams. There is no better in the highlands of Maine and at certain coast resorts.

For warm, sunny days for outdoor sports, and cool nights for refreshing sleep, come to Maine. Golf, play tennis, swim, fish, hike, climb mountains, canoe, sail. Hotels, inns, camps, farm homes, cottages, bungalows—accommodations and recreations to suit every taste and purpose. For a long or a short vacation, for a day or a quiet one—come to Maine.

Fill in the coupon today. Consult your nearest ticket office for information regarding rates and routes for comfortable travel to Maine.

BOOK REVIEW

"Maurine" Rolled Down for Our Booklovers' Club.

When Vivian Dangerfield, poised on the threshold and about to depart, said to Maurine: "You are not yourself tonight. What is

"Ailing?" No, I am not."

Mr. Dangerfield turns to Mr. Trevor and says:

"Miles! Miles, am I wrong, or do
 Mourning Seem to have something on his mind this eve?"
 To which Miss Trevor chirped:
 "She does," laughed Helen. "as I do believe
 I know what 'tis! A letter came today
 Which she read slyly, and then h
 away.
 See how she blushes! So my rando must
 We must believe has struck a te der spot."

Of course, anyone who has followed the story knows that the letter was from Maurine's faithful friend and loving coz., Orphan K. But Vivian, like most tenors, was jealous and proud bore. So naturally curled up when mention was made of the letter. What a pretty kettle of fish! Another whiff tomorrow.

GET UNBEARABLE FOR MAN WITH SORE ITCHING HANDS

Healed at last easily and quickly

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 28.—"For months all my fingers on both hands were covered with sore, itching sores. They frequently came out a watery fluid, and that, together with the terrible itching, made life almost unbearable. As my business necessitated having my hands in water a great deal, the suffering was made even worse. Doctors diagnosed my case as chronic eczema, but none of the prescribed salves helped me. Finally I began to use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Now, after using two jars of this Ointment, I am glad to say I am rid of my skin trouble and my hands are perfectly clear."—(Signed) J. Radio Dialog

By C. WILLIAM RADIOS

COMMISSIONER OLIVER ASPHIN of City Hall has at last succeeded in multifarious designs and plans to erect a home for aged radio sets.

Where are the radio sets of yesterday when three tubes and their ten dead? Years ago, only a few sets had a real expert with a license to bring in a program. What the radio lacked in tubes it made up in squeals.

Some of those affairs came in two or three boxes. Now all this junk is obsolete. Yet thousands of the poor and rich alike have such radio boxes which stood by faithfully during signals and broadcasts from New York. The best thing to do is to retire it in an old home where it can live and rest of its life in peace and quiet.

So Commissioner Aspin has started the construction of a morgue at the corner of Summer and Washington Streets. When it is completed it is expected to house all old radio cabinets, defunct B batteries, most of the sentimental announcers on Police Superintendent Crowley's force to take them and also some of the Radio Low Riders.
